

Second City troupe to perform Saturday

Selected students will join professionals onstage

W Gabriel Friedman
Staff Writer

Students looking for some reliable improvisational-comedy entertainment without heading to downtown Chicago can finally breathe a sigh of relief: Second City is coming to Niles West for the second straight year, this time performing Truth, Justice or the American Way. The show will take place in the Robert L. Johnson Auditorium Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Back by popular demand, the event will feature the during a rigorous, two-day audition process by opportunity to participate in the second half of Student performers include: freshman and Jason Suran; juniors Ethan seniors Mike Czajkowski, Jade Leventis and Seth Motel.

The coordinator of the Parents. Davros describes the to the community as well as a

The money raised by the event Booster Club and PTSA.

Davros holds high expectations "Last year's show was a big success, tickets," she said.

Tickets for the event cost $10 for deductible.

Additional information can be obtained from director of student activities Peter Geddeis or by calling (847) 626-2990.

Second City ensemble alongside Niles West students that were handpicked drama teacher Elizabeth Levin. Fifteen lucky students will have the the show, the improvisational portion, along with the actors.

Alyssa Jutovsky; sophomores David Chervony, Benjamin Cormalleth Itzkow, Ibrahim Khan, Gina Koontz and Demetra Rochelle; and Daugherty, Chris Kammerer, Theo Kim, Boris Kosyagin, Calli event is Vivian Davros, president of the Niles West Music Second City performance as "a way to showcase Niles West fundraiser for the four parent groups at Niles West."

is split among the Niles West Music Parents, Theater Parents, for this year's performance. which is why we are doing it again this year. We are hoping to sell 800-1,000 students and senior citizens and $25 for adults. One hundred percent of the ticket is tax